

Champions Always Rise Again

Champions in the Field

- Believe many of you have chased the 2010 World Cup.
- After watching it, did you manage to learn anything from the players on the field?
- Did you notice what traits the soccer players have in order to be champions?

Champions Rising Again

- Although a team may lose one of the match during the competition, all the players will still do their best to get back on again during the next match to fight for the champions again.
- "After the match against Spain everyone was disappointed. But champions rise again." -- Germany coach Joachim Loew

Give The Best Shot

- When Germany lost to Spain in the semi-finals, the supporters and players alike were disappointed. Paul the Oracle Octopus was given the death threat for predicting correctly that Germany will lose the match.
- During the 3rd/4th placing match against Uruguay, the German players gave their best shot till the last few minutes and managed to pull pass the 2-2 draw with a goal on the 82 minute.

Champion Do Their Best

- The Uruguay players too displayed outstanding sportsmanship with zeal to be champion during the match against the supposedly stronger German team.
- Even though they lost the match, the Uruguay players gave their best, and are still champions in terms of spirit and attitude.

Strong Champion Attitude

- One other matches, where soccer players displayed a strong champions attitude was during the match between Holland and Brazil.
- Holland lost in the first half and appeared to be the weaker team. In the end, they stunned the crowd and the Brazilians by pushing hard during the 2nd half and walked off the field qualifying for the finals.
- The players champion and strong mental desire to win turned the game around.
